

JELD-WEN® ADA-COMPLIANT INTERIOR DOORS

WHERE FUNCTION MEETS INCLUSIVITY

ADA-compliant interior doors meet various requirements to ensure accessible and inclusive design. From size and clearance to required rail height, ADA-compliant doors allow builders and architects to easily meet project requirements and building accessibility codes.

ADA-COMPLIANT DOOR OPENING REQUIREMENTS

- 10" bottom rail on the door
- Clear width of 32" from the edge of the door to the face of the door stop
- Minimum door height of 78"
- Hardware must be easy to operate and mounted no higher than 48" above the finished floor within an ADA-accessible entrance
- Opening force should be no more than 5 lbs. force

EXPLORE DOOR STYLES

Browse our comprehensive collection of ADA-compliant interior doors in numerous designs that meet your project's accessibility needs. These door slabs feature widths of 34" or more (ensuring a clear opening width of 32" from the edge of the door to the face of the door stop) and bottom rails 10" or taller to meet code. They can be hung to create ADA-compliant openings.
